

This, Too, Shall Pass

This, too, shall pass.
Time will go on.
As time goes on
Life will prevail.

When the halls are empty
and the canvas is bare;
When the clay is unformed
and no one is there;
This, too, shall pass.
Time will go on.

We will strive
When plague is upon us
and death is in the air.
We will strive
When joy is more difficult than sadness and despair.

When winter rages
and spring overflows;
Life will prevail.
When summer is aflame
and fall, the color goes;
Life will prevail.
Time will go on.

Time still goes
When true love is found
and the race is won.
Time still goes
When new life is born
and we see the sun.
Time will go on.

As time goes on
We can remember how to love.
This moment on
We can remember to be kind.

Time will go on Embrace each moment.
Time will go on
Welcome each moment.
This, too, shall pass.
